

SEED DISPERSAL

- Flying-foxes eat native fruit
- Small seeds are swallowed then poohed in flight
- Large seeds are dropped some distance from source trees
- Thus flying-foxes spread seed through forests and beyond
- New plants grow

